

Frogs

Frogs belong to a group of animals called amphibians. Amphibians have two stages in life; water and land.

Frogs have four legs and no tail. Some frogs have spots and stripes. Their colour helps to camouflage them. Frogs have wet skin and bulgy eyes.

Frogs live in damp places. The tree frog lives in trees. Other frogs live in ponds or creeks.

Frogs lay eggs in the water. Frogs come out at night. They make croaking noises. Frogs jump high. Some frogs climb trees.

Frogs eat insects and spiders. Some frogs eat other frogs.
